

American Idol is auditioning again! This time, they have asked Teen Idol to help provide talent for MANY cities they're in this season! The closest is Seattle on Aug 31st 2018.

Are you a former finalist and want front of line passes for any audition date/location? Here's generally what's necessary to qualify (details on Teenidol.org):

- You must have completed your contract or in the process of completing it now (you can sign up to perform to meet this criteria through Teenidol.org).
- Must be in what the program considers in good standing meaning not have violated your contract or code of ethics and not been inappropriate toward the program, staff, other contestants or volunteers.
- Not have been administratively terminated for not performing your season, quit or be currently suspended for any reason.

The Producer will determine qualifications for passes/participation at his sole discretion and all decisions are final.

Finalists under 18, must have a parent or guardian present as is required by American Idol.

Not a Teen Idol finalist but are interested in trying out for American Idol either in Seattle or any of the cities we have front of the line passes for? LIKE our page on Facebook and then go to Teenidol.org for more information.

Non-Finalists must have online videos showing abilities. Limited passes are available for Aug 31st – Teen Idol Finalists have priority. For non-Teen Idol folks, non-finalists teens are given priority over non-finalist adults.

Must be between 15 and 27 for Teen Idol front of line pass consideration. All non-finalists being granted front of line passes will be required to perform one time for Teen Idol LIVE.

Students who will be under 19 and under as of June 2019 are encouraged to try out for Teen Idol in Season 12 opening in January.

To sign up, go to www.Teenidol.org and select the CLICK HERE for the American Idol auditions to see the remaining rules, restrictions and qualifications for Teen Idol Front-of-Line passes.

Teen Idol, at its sole discretion, will also be putting several selections directly to the producers in a private audition as well. We aren't taking requests. We will select those we want to promote based on our experience with the applicant and what their commitment has been to the Teen Idol program.

Teen Idol is not associated with, a subsidiary of or agent for - American Idol, Freemantle Media North America, Fox or 19 Entertainment and are providing only passes in accordance to the rules provided by their producers. All decisions on passes being granted or not granted are that of the Teen Idol Executive Producer Dennis Gleason and are final.
